Biography

Nicole Cannizzaro (D) is a Democratic State Senator representing Nevada's 6th Senate District, a seat she has held since 2016. In 2019, she made history as the first woman to serve as the Nevada Senate Majority Leader, guiding the chamber's legislative agenda. Her current term ends in 2028[^1]. She succeeded Mark Lipparelli (R) in the district[^1].

Before her election to the Nevada Legislature, Cannizzaro built a legal career in public service. She earned her law degree and currently works as a prosecutor, serving as a Chief Deputy District Attorney in the Clark County District Attorney's office. In the legislature, her focus has included criminal justice, healthcare access, and education.

The statutory base salary for this office is $130[^1]. Most recent election: November 5, 2024[^
